

Feedback from Attendees about
Jack Kammer's Presentation
"Honoring Our Core Value and Ethical Commitment to Gender Diversity and Inclusiveness" at the Annual Conference of the New Mexico Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers
Albuquerque, New Mexico
February 24, 2010
www.believeinmen.com

- Very interesting, it provided a different perspective.
- This presentation was refreshing in that the speaker challenged the social work profession in its stance about men's issues.
- Very thought provoking!
- Excellent to have male perspective...thought provoking and helpful.
- A new approach that needs consideration.
- Pushes us to look at gender issues that forces us to look at boys and men.
- Present, current and provocative.
- It made me look into many myths that I held as true...very liberating.
- A new point of view.
- As a mom to three boys and married to a "big boy", I appreciated and needed the info!
- Fascinating discussion about males in the social work profession.
- Stimulating!
- Thought provoking...
- Inspires me to do something.
- It made me question that men are not also the victims of prejudice.
- Recognition of importance of equal rights for men as well as women.
- Challenged my thinking.
- Helped me find balance regarding gender issues.
- The presenter reawakened issues that I don't always think about.
- Eye opening.
- Made me aware of the need for social justice for men and boys.
- Dynamic and passionate for his cause, men and boys.
- Jack did an excellent job of pointing out that the emperor NASW has "no clothes," i.e. sexism/discrimination against males.
- The panel was informative and helped relate what is going on in New Mexico.
- Reminded me to look critically at studies.
- Recognition of the importance of men/boys in our society and current issues.
- Reminded me that we professionals need to work together as partners.
- Awesome!
- Very insightful presentation—clearly the social work profession needs men!
- It is true that men are being demoralized in our society and people don't know their roles as men and women.
- Focus, excellent speaker.
- Really an exciting "cutting edge" presentation!
- A new approach that needs consideration.
- Presentation of controversial ideas, stimulating.
- Brings awareness to this growing problem.
- Helped me recognize the bias in my own language.
- Excellent presentation. Well supported factually. Courageous!
- Very provocative points and a dynamic speaker.
- He spoke of the "unspeakable" Good for him! Great presentation.
- The presentation and the presenter pissed me off, but it all made me think really hard and made me realize that I need to keep these kinds of ideas in mind.